Pole traps employed between sunrise and sunset must be checked at least every 2 hours. Pole traps employed between sunset and sunrise must be checked at least once during the night. Pole traps must be closed down during inclement weather (e.g., precipitation or extreme temperatures) unless they are monitored continuously. A direct threat to human safety is one which involves a threat of serious bodily injury or a risk to human life. You may not use this authority for situations in which migratory birds are merely causing a nuisance. You must report any emergency take activity to your issuing office (mail: U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Migratory Bird Permit Office, P.O.BOX 779 Hadley, MA 01035-0779; or fax: 413-253-8424) within 72 hours after the emergency take action. D. Authorized to addle all eggs in up to 60 nests of Herring Gulls and 25 nests of Canada Geese. Nests should be proactively destroyed during the inactive phase (no eggs present in the nest) to prevent nesting and eliminate the need to handle active nests. For all take of nests under this permit, the number of nests authorized reflects the largest number of nests removed or oiled on any one visit to a property. Therefore the number of nests/eggs oiled or removed on the highest count day best reflects the actual number of nests present on a property. Nests with chicks may not be destroyed or relocated, unless otherwise stated on this permit. You may eat the eggs by oiling (using Egg Oil, 100% food grade corn oil, ADC Tech Note-June 1996), freezing, shaking, puncturing and immediately replacing the eggs for subsequent incubation, OR remove and destroy these nests and any eggs contained therein.

E. Authorized to take all eggs in up to:

- (a) 500 Canada geese nests,
- (b) 100 Mallard nests,
- (c) 5 Osprey nests,
- (d) 60 of each: Bank and Cliff swallow nests, and
- (e) 50 nests of each species listed in Condition D(e) - D(j).
- (f) 400 Nest of Barn Swallows

You may treat the eggs by (a) oiling (using Egg Oil, 100% food grade corn oil, ADC Tech Note-June 1996), freezing, shaking, puncturing and immediately replacing the eggs for subsequent incubation, (b) remove and destroy these nests and any eggs contained therein, OR (c) relocate these nests and any eggs contained therein.

F. You may use the following methods of take: (a) firearms; (b); nets; (c) registered animal drugs (excluding nicarbazin) and registered pesticides and repellents; and (d) legal lethal and live traps, provided that pole traps may only be used to capture raptors to protect human health and safety, threatened and endangered species, agriculture, and propagated game animals that are penned or enclosed in a manner that allows close control by the owner (i.e., not free-ranging) and only when all other reasonable and appropriate methods of deterrence and management prove ineffective. Pole traps employed between sunrise and sunset must be checked at least every 2 hours. Pole traps employed between sunset and sunrise must be checked at least once during the night. Pole traps must be closed down during inclement weather (e.g., precipitation or extreme temperatures) unless they are monitored continuously. Birds captured using pole traps must be relocated a distance sufficient to minimize potential for return to the capture site (preferably at least 100 miles away), except as otherwise authorized by the permit issuing office. Birds caught live using methods other than pole traps may be euthanized or transported and relocated to another site approved by the appropriate State wildlife agency, if required. When using firearms, you may use rifles or air rifles to shoot any bird when you determine that the use of a shotgun is inadequate to resolve the injurious situation. The use of any of the above techniques is at your discretion for each situation.

G. You are authorized in emergency situations only to take, trap, and/or relocate migratory birds, nests and eggs, including species that are not listed above (except you are not authorized to take, trap or relocate bald or golden eagles or endangered or threatened species [For a complete list see <http://endangered.fws.gov/wildlife.html>]) when the migratory birds, nests, or eggs are posing a direct threat to human health or safety. A direct threat to human health is one where a federal, state, or local public health agency recommends removal of migratory birds posing an immediate, specific threat to human health when conditions it deems conducive to the transmission of human or zoonotic pathogens are created or found. A direct threat to human safety is one which involves a threat of serious bodily injury or a risk to human life. You may not use this authority for situations in which migratory birds are merely causing a nuisance. You must report any emergency take activity to your issuing office (mail: U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Migratory Bird Permit Office, P.O.BOX 779 Hadley, MA 01035-0779; or fax: 413-253-8424) within 72 hours after the emergency take action. Your report must include the species and number of birds taken, location (town, county, and State), method, and a complete description of the circumstances warranting the emergency action.

You are authorized to euthanize migratory birds that are so compromised by injury or illness that they have little chance of survival, or when euthanasia is merited for humane considerations. Report to U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service Law Enforcement Office (Valley Stream, NY (telephone 516/825-3950) within 48 hours any birds (dead or alive) that appear to have been poisoned, shot, or otherwise injured as the result of criminal activity.
